HENRY GEORGE SCHOOL OF SOCIAL SCIENCE
CHARTERED BY THE UNIVERSITY OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK
50 EAST 68TH STREET, NEW YORK 21, N. Y.
TELEPHONE RHINELANDER 4-8700

Dear Friend:

Probably from the very dawn of human history man has been wrestling with the problem of living peacefully and productively with his neighbors. The record of mankind shows considerable progress but few would deny -- in the face of today's worldwide social, economic and political unrest -- that by far the greater part of the task remains to be done.

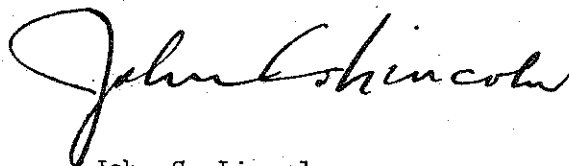

The writer has reason to believe that you are among those who would consider two hours a week for a period of ten weeks time well spent if it helped shed some light on the nature of the problems which confront us and pointed in the direction of their rational solution.

The Henry George School offers just such an opportunity through a tuition-free discussion course based on the works of Henry George -- who has been acclaimed by men like John Dewey and Count Tolstoy as one of the most brilliant minds that the world has produced. The course offers no ready-made panaceas or medicine-man formulas. It attempts, through open discussion and stimulating analysis, to make clear the underlying causes of the problems that face the modern world and to discover the means for solving them.

We sincerely believe that you will feel as so many others have felt who have taken the course -- that it has done more to crystallize and orient their thinking on economic, social and political problems than any other similar experience they have had.

An enrollment card is enclosed for your convenience. Won't you use it for some new, searching light on the vital questions that concern us all?

Sincerely,

John C. Lincoln
President, Board of Trustees

IF YOU'VE WONDERED ABOUT THE

What is the fundamental flaw in our economic system that makes recurring depression inevitable? What can we do about it?

What comparatively simple step could convert world trade into a positive and potent instrument for world peace?

Can a scientific system of political economy be devised which will not only permit us to keep our traditional liberties but increase our economic opportunities?

Why does socialism - and particularly in its extreme form, communism - result in the loss of important personal liberties?

Just how do our monetary and credit systems affect our daily lives?

WE BELIEVE YOU'LL FIND THE ANSWER HERE

● Course I - Fundamental Economics
Suggested Text - Progress and Poverty
by Henry George

The principles of Progress and Poverty are fundamental - and as applicable today as when the book was first written. The book itself is considered one of the masterpieces of English prose. The course takes up the basic problem in our economy, traces its origin and development, and offers a practical solution.

● Course II - International Trade and Social Problems
Suggested Texts - Protection or Free Trade and Social Problems by Henry George

The course makes a comprehensive study of the mechanics of international trade, analyzes the flaws and dangers that exist in present practices in international trade, and indicates their remedies. It also deals with current problems such as monopolies, national debts, governmental functions, the movements of population, and industrial and rural problems.

● Course III - The Science of Political Economy
Suggested Text - The Science of Political Economy by Henry George

This course is an attempt to survey the entire field of political economy and to create a solid foundation for a scientific approach to the subject. Various schools of economics are studied and analyzed and their contributions to the science evaluated.

● Course IV - A Critical Examination of Socialism
Suggested Text - Democracy Versus Socialism
by Max Hirsch

In this course, the theories of socialist leaders, particularly Karl Marx, are subjected to careful analysis. The consequences of "moderate" socialism as well as extreme communism are studied.

● Course V - Monetary Theory

A study of our present monetary and credit structure, together with a brief historical survey. Also an analysis of various monetary theories, their implications, and proposed reforms.

FORMER STUDENTS SAY —

"... I have studied in some of the most important universities in the country; and yet I can recall no course I have ever taken that has been so revealing or satisfying."

G. R., New York

"... I think your teaching methods, and the subjects you present, would be of immeasurable value to the country if adopted by the nation's schools and colleges."

J. S., Philadelphia, Pa.

"There'd be no danger of Communism or Socialism if everyone took the courses you offer at the Henry George School."

P. G., New York, N. Y.

"I wish I had heard of your school earlier. You are doing an important thing for those of us who haven't had time to devote to studying in our youth."

R. V. H., Mount Vernon, N. Y.
