

HARVARD UNIVERSITY
GRADUATE SCHOOLS OF APPLIED SCIENCE
SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING

LEWIS J. JOHNSON, M. AM. SOC. C.E.
PROFESSOR OF CIVIL ENGINEERING

Harvard,
CAMBRIDGE, MASS.

July 6, 1915.

Dear Mr. Mackendrick,

In case those Single Tax & Public Health pamphlets have not yet been delivered at your office from the Chepple Pub. Co. I think you should call up that concern (Dorchester 917), asking for Mr. Osborn. They should have been delivered by the middle of last week.

The enclosed Boston American comment on the appointment of one of our members, Mr. Creamer, to the Taxation Commission will interest and please you - and others of our League. I do not feel sure, however, that the American knows Mr. Creamer's views as well as some others of us do!

Cordially yours,

Lewis Johnson

P.S. I should be glad to hear a word about the Norwood meeting.

July 7, 1915

Since writing the foregoing your letter of the 6th has come - fully covering the first paragraph of this letter. L.J.

L.J.

10556