Dec. 24-29, 1981 (29 commercials, $546)

So much is being said these days about cutting taxes to save the economy. We at the Center for the Study of Economics believe that one tax, the land value tax, is good for the economy. Why? Because so much idle and semi-idle land in this country is being held out of use for investment purposes. Land that could be used to provide more jobs and more wealth for America.

Under the current property tax system, developing your land makes your taxes go up. But under a land value tax it is more expensive to hold prime land out of use and there is no penalty for building on it. If you, like most homeowners, have most of your property value in your building, a shift to land tax will probably save you money as well.

You need to know more about the land tax than we can tell you in 60 seconds. So why don't you give us a call? Our phone number is 687-LAND. That's 687-LAND.
